Aitana is the true essence of versatility.

With its wide range of available structures (4-leg, sled base, wood, swivel...) and three shell options (polypropylene, upholstered and wood), you have the freedom to choose and combine according to your personal preferences.

With a choice of five primary colors and the convenience of stackability, this chair embodies essential and decisive qualities that meet every need and fully embrace the remarkable versatility that defines it.

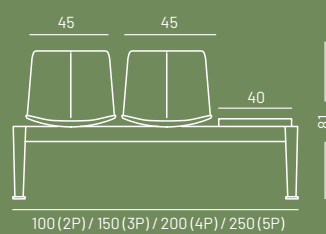

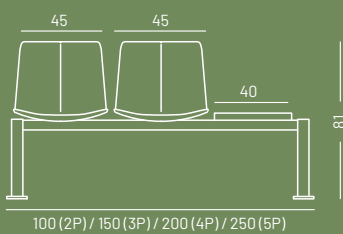

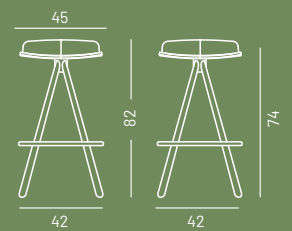

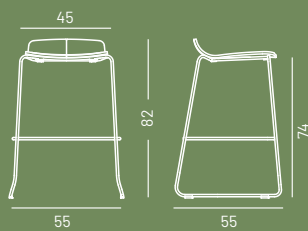

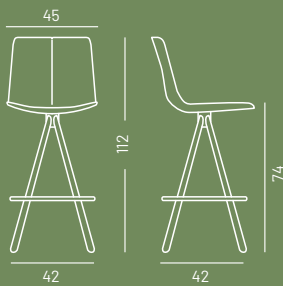

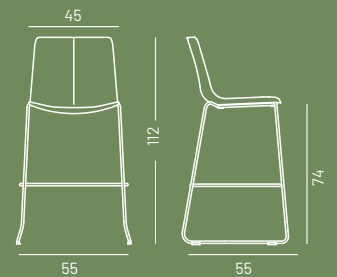

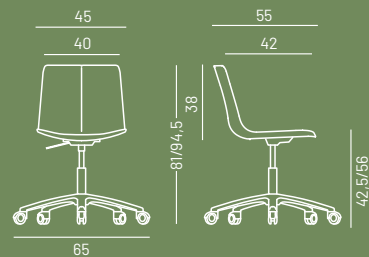

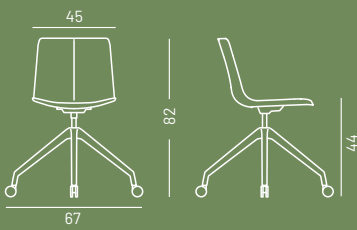

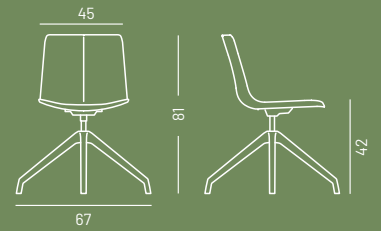

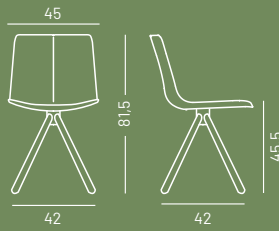

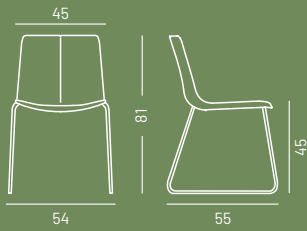

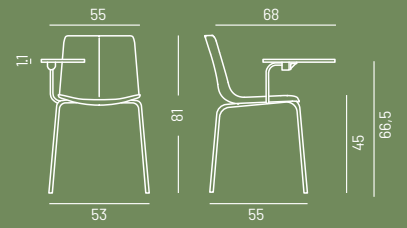

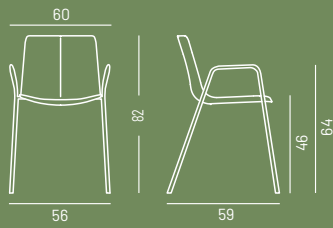

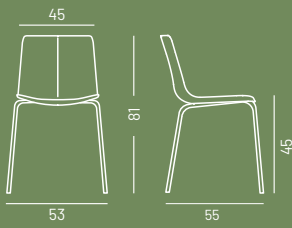

The leaf of the tree unfurls with graceful lightness, delicately floating through the air like a gentle exhale of nature, captivatingly dancing with enchanting finesse.

The Aitana chair unveils itself with a poetic sense of lightness, showcasing an elegant and slender allure that seamlessly blends into its surroundings with harmonious grace.

With its lightweight structure, the Aitana chair enables fluid and effortless movement, while providing a comfort that harmoniously merges with nature.

AITANA

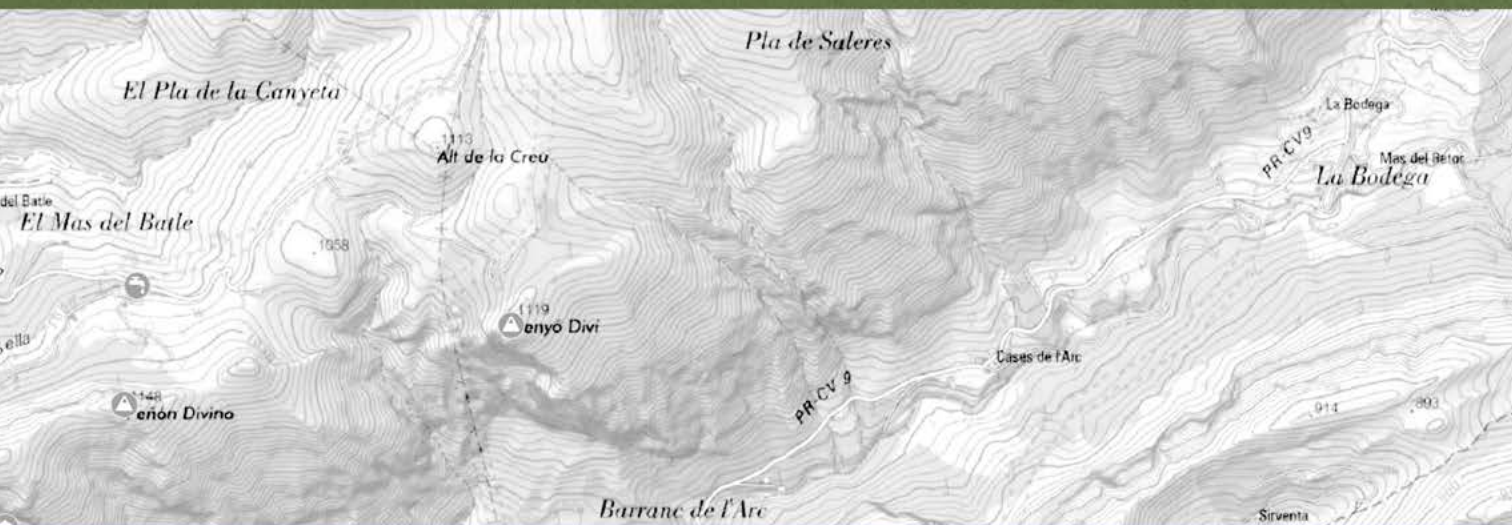

The culmination of the path signifies not only reaching the summit, but also the beginning of a new adventure where you can immerse yourself in new environments, inhale captivating scents, and indulge in tantalizing flavors. The interplay of sensations is unleashed, allowing your imagination to flourish as you combine a spectrum of colors, options and solutions that await your exploration.
